For the 23rd Annual Meeting at the University of Tennessee Health Science Center,
Memphis, TN. USA.

About IBANGS

The International Behavioural and Neural Genetics Society was established in 1996 to promote growth of research in the field of neural behavioral genetics. The society has members worldwide that study the genetic basis of a wide range of behaviors and brain disorders together with the underlying neuronal mechanisms using diverse species. For 20+ years the annual meeting has attracted 100-150 participants drawn from multiple countries and included a scientific program of plenary lectures, symposia, selected talks, and poster sessions. A variety of exhibitor/sponsor opportunities are available, as described on the next page

Venue information

Memphis Tennessee is home to the University of Tennessee Health Science Center (UTHSC) which is ranked in the top list of scientific research laboratories. The University has state of the state-of-the-art facilities with ample exhibit and meeting space (shown in the photos below). In addition to the main meeting room, there are multiple breakout rooms and a designated poster presentation area which opens to an outdoor patio. Venue Photos
